Re: COR Clearing, LLC v. First Standard Financial Co., LLC
Case No. 17CIV02190 (PAE)

Dear Judge Engelmayer:

As counsel for defendant First Standard Financial Company, LLC (“First Standard” or “Defendant”), we write with the consent of counsel for plaintiff COR Clearing, LLC to request that the Court accept the parties’ consent to extend the fact witness deposition deadline (currently set for March 30, 2018) to coincide with, and run in parallel with, the expert witness discovery time line on May 14, 2018. Counsel for the parties are coordinating on the disclosure of each other’s fact witnesses to be deposed and order of depositions. We currently anticipated only two (2) or three (3) expert witnesses.

This reasonable extension request is required due to the delays encountered in receiving responses to subpoena request from a non-party FINRA. The information sought by subpoena is relevant to the issues involved in this matter. The parties have sent a follow-up demand letter to FINRA including a demand that the non-privileged material be produced within 5 business days of their receipt of our letter.

The parties are available at the Court’s convenience should there be any questions or issues which the Court believes that it is necessary to address in this regard.

Respectfully submitted,
SCARINCI & HOLLENBECK, LLC
